

2022 church report

This year, in the charts on the following pages, we have included both average weekly in-person and online attendance numbers in separate columns. However, we use both these numbers added together (in-person + online) to determine a church's size category and how they are sorted within each category.

We focus primarily on in-person attendance because, frankly, there's nothing quite like participating and experiencing worship in real, side-by-side and face-to-face community. A Lifeway Research study ("Does Online Attendance 'Count'?") reveals that U.S. pastors are about evenly split on whether in-person attendance is the only valid option. Authors of a separate study say "in-person attendance could promote improved health through social support and a sense of connection in congregational worship."

At the same time, we realize that many churches use online strategies to reach people both locally and globally. We believe both in-person and online can be used for different purposes that fit into the mission of the church, so this year we include both numbers.

Of course, the church is more than just attendance numbers. We look at baptisms as a key indicator of health and discipleship. We have projected a total of more than 70,000 baptisms among all independent Christian churches and churches of Christ last year. We extrapolated that number based on the total number of baptisms reported by churches in our survey. And while the number of baptisms per year has dipped since 2019, we can celebrate how many people gave their lives to Christ in 2022, and we trust they are being disciplined to make disciples. Let's pray for a spirit of revival in our churches and that each of these new disciples of Jesus will mature in their faith and reach their friends and family for Christ.

SPOTLIGHT CHURCHES

Numbers reveal only a part of the story about our churches, of course. So, as in years' past, we are featuring "Spotlight Churches," but this year these articles will appear exclusively on our website, ChristianStandard.com. Throughout May and June, we'll share the stories of how several churches of varying sizes from our survey carried out their mission in 2022.

We will link to these stories of Spotlight Churches in our weekly Wednesday news email. If you do not already receive this newsletter, please sign up for it today at ChristianStandard.com. See the section, "SUBSCRIBE TO RECEIVE THE LATEST UPDATES!"
